

Mr. LODGE. I have no objection to the Senator addressing the Senate on the sales tax, but as we have a unanimous-consent agreement in regard to the time for the consideration of the treaty with Colombia, I think it is my duty to call it up to-morrow.

Mr. PENROSE. The Senator from Massachusetts, the chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, has given notice that he intends to discuss the treaty with Colombia. There will not then be the slightest difficulty in the Senator from Utah addressing himself to the treaty and discussing the sales tax.

Mr. LODGE. Under the practice of the Senate that is very true.

Mr. SMOOT. The Senator from Utah did not know whether we were going to have an open executive session or not. If I had understood that the treaty was to be discussed in open executive session, of course I would not have asked the question.

Mr. LODGE. I shall make a motion, as I think I stated, to have the treaty taken up in open executive session.

Mr. KELLOGG. Mr. President, in executive session on the last day of the special session of the Senate I gave notice that on the first day of this session I would, with the permission of the Senate, address it on the Colombian treaty; but as the Senator from Massachusetts, the chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, desires to address the Senate at that time, I should like to give notice that at the conclusion of his remarks, or at least on Wednesday morning, I shall ask the permission of the Senate to make an address on the subject.

Mr. POMERENE. Mr. President—

The VICE PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Massachusetts yield to the Senator from Ohio?

Mr. LODGE. I yield to the Senator. I was about to make a motion to adjourn.

Mr. POMERENE. In view of the notice which has been given by the Senator from Minnesota, I wish also to give notice that at the conclusion of his address I desire to submit some observations on the Colombian treaty.

Mr. LODGE. I will state that several Senators have spoken to me about the introduction of morning business. That, of course, can take place to-morrow morning before the President's message is delivered, but I think until we have notified the President we should not enter on any routine business. I now move that the Senate adjourn.

Mr. KNOX. Before the motion is put I should like to give a notice. I understand the Senator from Massachusetts has given notice that he will speak on the Colombian treaty to-morrow.

Mr. LODGE. That is my intention.

Mr. KNOX. And the Senator from Minnesota [Mr. KELLOGG] will follow him either to-morrow or the day following, and the Senator from Ohio [Mr. POMERENE] has given notice that he will follow the Senator from Minnesota. I should like to give notice that, if agreeable to the Senate, at the conclusion of the remarks of the Senator from Ohio I shall address the Senate upon the Colombian treaty.

Mr. LODGE. I renew my motion that the Senate adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; and (at 3 o'clock and 5 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, Tuesday, April 12, 1921, at 12 o'clock meridian.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Monday, April 11, 1921.

The House met at 12 o'clock noon.

This being the day fixed in the proclamation of the President for the assembling of the first session of the Sixty-seventh Congress, the Clerk of the House of the Sixty-sixth Congress, Mr. William Tyler Page, called the House to order.

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

The CLERK. Representatives elect, this being the day and hour proclaimed by the President for the convening of the Sixty-seventh Congress in extraordinary session, the Clerk of the House of the Sixty-sixth Congress will now read the following proclamation:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas public interests require that the Congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon on the 11th day of April, 1921, to receive such communication as may be made by the Executive:

Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the Congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the Capitol in the District of Columbia on the 11th day of April, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as Members thereof are hereby required to take notice.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States in the District of Columbia the 22d day of March, in the year of our Lord 1921, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-fifth.

[SEAL.]

By the President:

CHARLES E. HUGHES,

Secretary of State.

WARREN G. HARDING.

The CLERK. The Chaplain of the House of the Sixty-sixth Congress will now offer prayer.

Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., Chaplain of the House of the Sixty-sixth Congress, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, we still live, because Thy mercy and goodness never fail us. We are grateful that we are still in Thy remembrance. May we never feel the shadow of Thy frown.

May this time be the hour of our reconsecration to the needs and to the call of our country. May the fires of our devotion be rekindled upon the altars of all our hearts, and thus may we be bound by every energy and passion of our beings. Thus bless our country with great peace, plenty, and prosperity.

Give wisdom to all our deliberations, and may we give willing obedience to every indication of Thy divine will and holy purpose.

Upon the President, upon our beloved land, upon this National Congress, upon every citizen let Thy richest blessing fall and abide, impartial and refreshing as the sunlight; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The CLERK. The roll call discloses the presence of 421 Members. A quorum is present. The Clerk will present for information a statement showing changes that have occurred since the regular election of Representatives to the Sixty-seventh Congress. And if there be no objection the statement will be printed in the RECORD. The statement is as follows:

LIST OF VACANCIES SINCE THE REGULAR ELECTION, NOVEMBER 2, 1920.
Alabama, fourth district: FRED L. BLACKMON, died February 7, 1921.

California, ninth district: CHARLES F. VAN DE WATER, died November 20, 1920. WALTER F. LINEBERGER elected February 15, 1921, to fill the vacancy.

Pennsylvania, at large: MAHLON H. GARLAND, died November 19, 1920.

The Clerk will state that certificates have been duly filed showing the election of J. KUHIO KALANIANAOLE as Delegate from the Territory of Hawaii and of DAN A. SUTHERLAND as Delegate from the Territory of Alaska.

The Clerk deems it proper to state that, pursuant to act of Congress, a Resident Commissioner to the United States from Porto Rico is elected quadrennially, and that the Clerk has received from the Secretary of State of the United States a certified copy of the certificate of election of FELIX CORDOVA DAVILA as such Resident Commissioner for the four years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1921. Under the rules of the House of the Sixty-sixth Congress the Resident Commissioner from Porto Rico was accorded the privilege of the floor of the House.

Two Resident Commissioners to the United States from the Philippine Islands are elected by the Philippine Legislature triennially. The Clerk was notified by the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department of the election by the Philippine Legislature of JAIME C. DE VEXRA and ISAURO GARALDON as Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands for three years commencing March 4, 1920, and that the President of the United States would transmit their credentials to the House. The Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands have heretofore been accorded the privilege of the floor of the House by unanimous consent, such action being taken after the House is organized, but not at this juncture.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

The CLERK. The next business in order is the election of a Speaker. Nominations will now be received.

Mr. TOWNER. Mr. Clerk, I am authorized by the Republican conference representing the majority of the House to present as its candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives during the continuance of the Sixty-seventh Congress the name of FREDERICK HUNTINGTON GILLET, a Representative from Massachusetts. [Applause.]

Mr. RAYBURN. Representing the unanimous sentiment of the Democrats of the Sixty-seventh Congress, and by their direction, I present for Speaker of the House of Representatives the name of Hon. CLAUDE KITCHIN, of North Carolina. [Applause, the Members rising.]

The CLERK. Hon. FREDERICK H. GILLET, a Representative elect from the State of Massachusetts, and Hon. CLAUDE KITCHIN, a Representative elect from the State of North Carolina, have been placed in nomination. If there are no further nominations the Clerk will appoint the gentleman from Maine, Mr. WHITE, Mr. JEFFERIS, of Nebraska, Mr. TAGUE, of Massachusetts, and Mr. HAYDEN, of Arizona, to act as tellers.

The roll will now be called and Members will indicate by name the candidate of their choice.

The tellers having taken their places, the House proceeded to vote viva voce for Speaker. The following is the vote in detail:

ANSWERED "PRESENT"—1.

London

The CLERK. The tellers agree in their tally. The total number of votes cast is 420, of which Hon. FREDERICK H. GILLET has received 297 votes, and Hon. CLAUDE KITCHIN 122 votes, one member answering "present." Hon. FREDERICK H. GILLET, a Representative from the State of Massachusetts, having received a majority of all the votes cast, is duly elected Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-seventh Congress. The gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. MONDELL, the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. MANN, and the gentleman from North Carolina, Mr. KITCHIN, will please conduct the Speaker elect to the chair, and the Clerk will designate the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CANNON] to administer to the Speaker elect the oath of office prescribed by law.

The committee appointed to notify Mr. GILLET of his election and escort him to the chair having returned with him, Mr. MONDELL said:

Gentlemen of the Sixty-seventh Congress, I present to you your Speaker. [Applause.]

ADDRESS BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I appreciate deeply your confidence and this great honor you have conferred on me. The first time a man is elected to an office is doubtless to him the most thrilling, but I am not sure but that a reelection is most satisfying. [Laughter and applause.] The first time he is taken necessarily as an experiment; even his best friends may have misgivings. But when he is reelected he has been tested; it shows that the experiment has not been a complete failure and that the hopes and expectations of his friends have in some measure been realized. And so, my friends, while I appreciate my shortcomings, yet it is a source of great gratification and pride that you have been generous enough to overlook them and have given me this reelection. I shall try to repay you as far as I can by a sedulous and conscientious attention to the duties of the office. They are of two kinds—political and judicial. I shall try not to confuse the two or let one impair the other.

In the last Congress the entire membership on both sides of the House showed me a consideration and a kindly courtesy for which I shall always be grateful. I am not without hope that I may experience a similar kindness in this Congress. At any rate I shall try to earn your good will, and my experience will always be at the service of anyone, particularly of the new Members.

This promises to be a busy and important and, I fear, a long session. The condition of all phases of our productive activities is depressing and in some cases it is alarming. It will require the wisest statesmanship to determine how much it can be remedied by national legislation. It may require unflinching courage to abide by that determination. But I trust that we shall prove equal to our task. I know you approach it with earnestness and a high purpose. And so, gentlemen, I thank you again for this great honor and I hope for your kindly co-operation and assistance. [Applause.] I am ready to take the oath of office.

The oath of office was administered to the Speaker by Mr. CANNON.

The SPEAKER. Members will now be called by States to take the oath of office.

The Members presented themselves as their States were called and took the oath of office prescribed by law.

During the swearing in of the Members, when the State of Kansas was called, the following occurred:

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present a question of privilege to the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FLOOD. I desire to object to the swearing in at this time of RICHARD E. BIRD, a Representative from Kansas, as a Member of the House, for the reason that the personal statement which each candidate is required to file for expenses of nomination and election filed by Mr. BIRD shows that he spent over $10,000 for securing the nomination and election, which is more than double the amount permitted to a candidate for the House of Representatives to spend under our corrupt practices act.

The SPEAKER. According to the precedents the gentleman from Kansas will stand aside for the present.

Mr. FLOOD. I desire to say that a little later I will offer a resolution on this subject, according to the precedents of the House.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, while I do not think the Speaker or anyone else has the right to require any Member to stand aside, because all Members with credentials are on an equal basis in the House, I have no objection to the gentleman from Kansas standing aside temporarily.

Mr. FLOOD. That seems to have been the practice in the House. It was certainly done in the Roberts case, in the Fifty-sixth Congress.

It was done in the Young case in the Sixty-third Congress, and in the last Congress, the Sixty-sixth Congress, that was the rule which applied in the Berger case.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, it was acquiesced in, but no one has the right before the House is organized by the swearing in of the Members to object to the swearing in of one Member whose credentials are the same as those of the Members who object, because otherwise I might object to the whole Democratic side of the House being sworn in.

Mr. BIRD. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully ask the privilege of stepping aside temporarily.

Mr. TINCER. Mr. Speaker, if I may be permitted, as a Representative of the State of Kansas, as a colleague of the gentleman who has just asked that he may be permitted to step aside, I do not wish to let go unchallenged at this time a statement by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. FLOOD], who objects to Mr. BIRD's taking the oath of office, that there is on file a statement of Mr. BIRD, with the Clerk, showing that he has expended any such amount of money as that mentioned by the gentleman from Virginia. A statement is on file with the Clerk from some committee to the effect that they expended some money, but Mr. BIRD's own statement of his election expenditures shows that he expended sums well within the statute, and they are very ordinary expenditures.

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I intended to state that the statement filed by Mr. BIRD showed that some of his expenditures were not expenditures that he is required to return, and that upon an examination of the gentleman's statement it may turn out that there were sufficient expenditures belonging to the class of expenditures a Member of Congress is not required to return as to reduce his total expenditures below the sum of $5,000. As the statement stands now unexplained it shows a much larger sum than $5,000.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks that the precedents are that in such cases the Member stands to one side, not at all as any evidence of the accuracy of the charge, but simply so that those whose rights are uncontested may be sworn in, and that then his case may be taken up. The gentleman has very magnanimously himself suggested that he be permitted to stand to one side until the others have been sworn in.

The swearing in of the Members was then completed.

Mr. GRIEST and Mr. BUTLER affirmed.

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution, which I send to the Speaker's desk and ask to have read.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. BIRD] be now sworn in.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Virginia offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. FLOOD offers the following resolution:

"Whereas it is charged that RICHARD E. BIRD, a Representative elect from the State of Kansas, is probably ineligible to a seat in the House of Representatives; and

"Whereas such charge is made through a Member of the House and on his responsibility as a Member and on the basis of the publicity statement filed by the said RICHARD E. BIRD in compliance with the statute governing campaign contributions and expenditures:

"Resolved, That the question of the prima facie right of RICHARD E. BIRD to be sworn in as a Representative of the State of Kansas of the Sixty-seventh Congress, as well as of his final right to a seat therein as such Representative, be referred to a special committee of seven Members of the House, to be appointed by the Speaker; and until the committee shall report upon, and the House decide such question and right the said RICHARD E. BIRD shall not be sworn in nor permitted to occupy a seat in this House; and said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers and examine witnesses on oath as to the subject matter of this resolution."

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer as a substitute for the motion of the gentleman from Virginia a motion that the gentleman from Kansas, Mr. BIRD, be now permitted to take the oath of office.

Mr. FLOOD rose.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question on the motion of the gentleman from Wyoming.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Illinois moves the previous question on the substitute motion of the gentleman from Wyoming.

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I understand that I had the floor. The SPEAKER. But the motion for the previous question is privileged.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. FLOOD] offered his resolution, and thereupon the gentleman from Wyoming [Mr. MONDELL] offered a substitute. The gentleman from Wyoming, of course, would have been entitled to the floor to discuss his substitute, but he yielded the floor, and under the common parliamentary practice would the floor not thereupon revert to the gentleman from Virginia?

What right had the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MADDEN] to rise and take the floor to move the previous question?

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks that the motion for the previous question is a privileged motion, on which the gentleman from Illinois had the right of recognition.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Of course, I realize that the previous question is a privileged motion, and the gentleman from Wyoming might have moved the previous question on his motion.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, let me ask a question, if I may be permitted. Of course, if the previous question be not ordered and if the gentleman from Virginia should take the floor, he might talk for 24 hours. How much time is desired?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I do not know of any particular time, except such time as the gentleman from Virginia wishes in which to make a very brief statement. There has been no debate.

Mr. MANN. I wondered if we could agree on a time for debate if the previous question is not offered.

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a very brief statement.

The SPEAKER. How much time does the gentleman desire?

Mr. FLOOD. Five minutes.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the demand for the previous question.

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, at the end of the five minutes I ask to be recognized.

Mr. FLOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say for the information of the House that this resolution is drawn in accordance with the precedents established by the House in many cases, especially in the Roberts case in the Fifty-sixth Congress and in the Berger case in the last Congress. Mr. Roberts's right to be sworn in was challenged because he had violated a law of the United States. He was required to stand aside, and a committee was appointed to investigate his right to his seat as a Member of the House. He was denied that seat. Mr. Berger was required to stand aside because he had violated a law of the United States. He was denied his right to take a seat in this House because he had violated a law of his country. We have here the case of Mr. BIRD, whose publicity statement filed in compliance with the statute governing campaign contributions and expenditures shows that he has violated a law of the United States. A Member is permitted to spend for his nomination and election the sum of $5,000.

Mr. BIRD's statement made to an official of this House shows that he spent in his nomination and election over $10,000. I said a little while ago that some of these items probably should not be included in Mr. BIRD's statement, because they were expenditures of which a Member is not required to make report, but so far as the face of his report shows these items would not amount to over $1,000, and it leaves him far in excess of the amount he is authorized to expend under the corrupt practices act. I feel, Mr. Speaker, that this is a salutary law and should be upheld by this House. Only on the 25th of last February a distinguished and able committee of this House brought in a report of the case of McLane against Farr, in which they recommended the unseating of Mr. McLane because it was claimed he had constructive knowledge that more than $5,000 was spent in his nomination and election. Now, we have a case in which a Member elect, by his own statement, informs this House in a document that belongs to this House that he has spent more than the amount for which Mr. McLane was unseated. I think that this is a matter that should appeal to the sense of justice of this House. If the gentleman from Kansas can go before a committee or any tribunal of this House and show that expenditures contained in and shown by his report were not of a character that he was required to make report of sufficient in amount to leave the expenditure within the amount that he is permitted to spend by the law, then that committee could and would make a very speedy report and authorize his seating, but if he could not show that he should not be allowed to become a Member of this House, and as the record stands he is a violator of the law of the Congress as he has shown by his own statement. I think this resolution ought to be adopted, and this investigation made in justice to the Member himself and in justice to the integrity of the House. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, the resolution offered by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. FLOOD] is very unusual, and I think it is entirely without precedent. There has been no case in the history of the Congress where a Member has been denied the right to take the oath because of a question raised by another Member in regard to his expenditures during his campaign, and, furthermore, from a hasty investigation of the statements filed by Mr. BIRD I find nothing to indicate that he expended a sum in excess of the amount he was authorized to expend under the Federal and State statutes. I therefore—

Mr. FLOOD. Will the gentleman permit me to ask him a question? Is it a fact that Mr. BIRD makes an affidavit that he spent $10,300?

Mr. MONDELL. I find no such affidavit on file.

Mr. FLOOD. Is not that the statement—

Mr. MONDELL. I find nothing of that sort.

Mr. FLOOD. The gentleman has not looked at the statement, then.

Mr. MONDELL. I have looked at the statements carefully.

Mr. BARKLEY. Would it be possible to have the statement brought before the House and read by the Clerk?

Mr. FLOOD. I will ask the gentleman if he will not move to bring the statement up and exhibit it to the House?

Mr. MONDELL. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN].

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, when the Utah case came up the Member elect from Utah was asked to stand aside, and, without any question being raised as to the authority of the Speaker requiring him to stand to one side, he did so. There have been one or two, and perhaps four—I do not remember—cases where the same procedure was carried out. Four years ago when the House met no one knew who had a majority of the House. Neither side had a clear majority of the House, and it was suggested at that time—and it shows the peril of a procedure like this—that some Democrat might object to the swearing in of a Republican, ask him to stand aside on his responsibility as a Member, and present some kind of a charge against him. It was suggested that some Republican could make the same kind of an objection to a Democrat, and through one of those procedures one side or another gain an advantage which they did not have on the return. Of course, such conduct would not receive the support of the then Democratic leader, Champ Clark [applause], who frowned upon the suggestion. No more would it receive the support of myself, who was then the Republican leader, and neither side would accept advantage in that way. But the time might come when, through bitterness of party considerations in a close contest, such an advantage might be taken. We all meet here with credentials from our States on even terms. When a Member rises and objects to the swearing in of another Member, if the one who makes the objection has not already been sworn in, then the one objected to may equally object to the swearing in of the Member who objects to him, and if a mere objection to a Member is sufficient to compel him to stand aside, a Democratic Member now might have objected to all Republicans and a Republican Member might have objected to all the Democrats, and the only man who would be left in the House would be the Speaker already sworn in. [Laughter and applause.] The Speaker can not pass upon the reasons offered for objection. The Speaker has not the power to determine whether the reasons given are good. Hence the Speaker has no authority to require a Member who has his credentials to stand aside, but a Member who insists upon it has the right under the law with his credentials to take the oath of office.

Ah, the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. FLOOD] offers reasons here. The reasons are a statement of facts. The facts are in dispute. The gentleman from Virginia says that the Member ought to stand aside and be not sworn in until the facts are determined in his favor. But he has a right to participate in the proceedings of the House in the determination of the facts in his case and in other cases. He could not vote upon his own case. But Members when they come to the organization of a body all come upon the same terms, and to refuse a Member a seat on the plea that in some place he has violated the law, even if it be true, is not a sufficient reason for refusing to give him his seat.

In the Roberts case it was held that the man was ineligible for election and could not be elected. In the Berger case it was held that the man was ineligible for election and could not be elected. In this case there is no pretense that the man was ineligible for election, but that in the course of election he did something which the law forbids. Whether he did or not is a matter for the House hereafter to determine in a proper contest. It has not now the right to take advantage of the situation during the preliminary organization. His credentials are as good as mine; they are as good as the credentials of the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. FLOOD]; they are as good as anybody else's credentials, and he is entitled to take his seat now. [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question on the resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman let me have about three minutes?

Mr. MONDELL. I will yield to the gentleman.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I have no quarrel with the argument offered by the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] as to the matter of the right of the Speaker to require one to stand aside when his right to take the oath is challenged, as was done in this case. But that is not the question now before us. The gentleman from Kansas [Mr. BIRD] himself has asked permission to stand aside temporarily. So that question is behind us. The gentleman from Illinois has said that Roberts was unseated because it was held that he was ineligible for election; that Berger was unseated because it was held that he was ineligible for election. I do not remember that there was anything which rendered either of those persons ineligible save that each was held to have violated the law of the land. There was nothing brought out as to either of those men that rendered them ineligible for election, the Congress itself being the judge under the Constitution of the eligibility and election of its Members, with, of course, certain constitutional limitations as to age, citizenship, and residence. The only opportunity to raise this question in a manner in which the minority felt justified in raising it, or felt willing to raise it, was here and now, because there is no offer by anyone to contest the seat or the credentials to which the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. BIRD] holds. I mean no other person is claiming the election or asking for the seat. Therefore it can never be brought before the House or before any committee of the House by means of a contest. So if the House was to pass upon the question at all, if it was to determine whether in this case—which upon its face seemed a clear case—that it would enforce the corrupt practices act, this method was substantially the only opportunity which could be offered to give the House that chance. Hence the course which has been pursued, asking simply for an investigation. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question. The previous question was ordered.

The SPEAKER. The question is upon the substitute offered by the gentleman from Wyoming, to the effect that the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. BIRD] may be sworn in.

The question was taken; and the Speaker announced that the yeas seemed to have it.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The question was taken; and there were—yeas 286, nays 112, answered "present" 2, not voting 33, as follows:

The question was taken; and the motion of Mr. FLOOD as amended was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. If there are any other gentlemen present who were not sworn in with their delegations, now is their opportunity.

Mr. BIRD, Mr. PATTERSON, and Mr. OVERSTREET appeared at the bar of the House, and the Speaker administered to them the oath of office.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE.

Mr. TOWNER. Mr. Speaker, I am authorized by the Republican conference, representing the majority of the House, to present the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk and ask to have read, and move its adoption.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 3.

Resolved, That William Tyler Page, of the State of Maryland, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;
That Joseph G. Rodgers, of the State of Pennsylvania, be, and he is hereby, chosen Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives;
That Bert W. Kennedy, of the State of Michigan, be, and he is hereby, chosen Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives;
That Frank W. Collier, of the State of Wisconsin, be, and he is hereby, chosen Postmaster of the House of Representatives; and
That Rev. James Shera Montgomery, of the District of Columbia, be, and he is hereby, chosen Chaplain of the House of Representatives.

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to prefer a unanimous-consent request before I offer a substitute for a part of the resolution, and that is that that part of the resolution referring to the Chaplain be separated from the other, and that the Rev. Mr. Montgomery be elected Chaplain.

Mr. TOWNER. I have no objection to the separation.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the election of the Rev. Mr. Montgomery as Chaplain.

The resolution referring to the Rev. Mr. Montgomery was agreed to.

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution, which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Texas offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. RAYBURN offers the following as a substitute for the resolution: "Resolved, That South Trimble, of the State of Kentucky, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;

"That R. B. Gordon, of the State of Ohio, be, and he is hereby, chosen Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives;

"That Joseph J. Sinnott, of the State of Virginia, be, and he is hereby, chosen Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives; and

"That F. E. Scott, of the State of Tennessee, be, and he is hereby, chosen Postmaster of the House of Representatives."

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the substitute offered by the gentleman from Texas.

The question was taken, and the substitute was rejected.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution offered by the gentleman from Iowa.

The resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The officers will come forward and be sworn.

Messrs. Page, Rodgers, Kennedy, Collier, and Montgomery appeared at the bar of the House, and the Speaker administered to them the oath of office.

MINORITY EMPLOYEES.

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the usual resolution in reference to the minority employees.

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman withhold that?

Mr. RAYBURN. Yes.

DELEGATE FROM ALASKA.

The SPEAKER. Are the Delegates present, and do they desire to be sworn in?

Mr. SUTHERLAND, Delegate from Alaska, appeared at the bar of the House and the Speaker administered to him the oath of office.

NOTIFICATION TO THE SENATE.

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Wyoming offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 4.

Resolved, That a message be sent to the Senate to inform that body that a quorum of the House of Representatives is assembled; that FREDERICK H. GILLET, a Representative from the State of Massachusetts, has been elected Speaker; that William Tyler Page, a citizen of the State of Maryland, has been elected Clerk; and that the House is ready for business.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Wyoming offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 5.

Resolved, That a committee of three Members be appointed by the Speaker on the part of the House of Representatives to join with the committee on the part of the Senate to notify the President of the United States that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as the members of the committee on the part of the House Mr. MONDELL, Mr. FORDNEY, and Mr. KITCHIN.

NOTIFICATION TO THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. MONDELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Wyoming offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 6.

Resolved, That the Clerk be instructed to inform the President of the United States that the House of Representatives has elected FREDERICK H. GILLET, a Representative from the State of Massachusetts, as Speaker, and William Tyler Page, a citizen of the State of Maryland, as Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-seventh Congress.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution, which I send to the Clerk's desk.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. According to the precedent that I have before me, the consideration of the resolution concerning minority employees has preceded the adoption of the rule. It is not very important, but that is the precedent.

Mr. MANN. That, of course, would be in order; but I think usually it was done by unanimous consent.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. It does not make any difference.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. I have no objection. I withhold the resolution for a moment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WALSH). The gentleman withholds his resolution. The gentleman from Texas [Mr. RAYBURN] offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 7.

Resolved, That, until otherwise ordered, Joseph J. Sinnott be authorized to act as special employee of the House of Representatives and receive compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; that John O. Snyder be authorized to act as special chief page and pair clerk and receive compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; that L. M. Overstreet be authorized to act as special messenger and assistant pair clerk and receive compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; that W. E. Kenney, Clarence A. Cannon, and Wallace Bassford be authorized to act as special messengers and receive each compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; and that J. J. Kenah be authorized to act as minority telephone messenger and receive compensation at the rate of $1,800 per annum; such employees to be at all times under the control of the Speaker of the House, and subject to change at any time by the House, as provided by law.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I noticed that that resolution is somewhat different from the resolution heretofore adopted, but I understand from the gentleman from Wyoming [Mr. MONDELL] that the change has his consent and approval.

Mr. RAYBURN. That is my understanding, that it has been submitted to the gentleman from Wyoming and is satisfactory to him.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

THE RULES.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I offer the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Kansas offers the following resolution.

The Clerk read as follows:

House resolution 8.

Resolved, That the rules of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth Congress be adopted as the rules of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-seventh Congress: Provided, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is authorized and directed to appoint a special committee for the Sixty-seventh Congress, to be known as the Select Committee on the Budget, to which shall be referred all proposed legislation for the establishment of a national budget system. Such committee shall consist of 12 members, of whom 7 shall be appointed from the majority party and 5 from the minority party. The committee or any subcommittee thereof may sit during the sessions or recesses of the House and may have done such printing and binding as may be necessary in connection with the performance of its duties.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, the only unusual thing about the resolution that I have submitted is the proviso that the Speaker be directed to appoint a Special Committee on the Budget. Such a committee was appointed under a special rule in the last Congress. The work of the committee was not consummated into law during that Congress, and it is desired that a similar committee be appointed by the Speaker at an early day, so that prompt action may be had upon the budget system.

I yield five minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. POW].

Mr. POUL. Mr. Speaker, at this time on behalf of the minority I shall content myself with reminding the House, and particularly the majority, of the unusual situation produced by the last election. There are 300 Members on that side of the aisle and 132 on this side of the aisle. Therefore the majority has the power to suspend the rules at any time, if the two-thirds rule is permitted to remain in force. Certainly one of the reasons for requiring two-thirds was to take care of the rights of the minority. Now, I do not know whether it is worth while to submit the proposition or not [laughter]; but I would suggest to our genial chairman of the Committee on Rules [Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas] that instead of requiring two-thirds to suspend the rules three-fourths be required. [Laughter.]

Mr. MANN. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. POUL. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. MANN. The real minority of the House consists of one Member, the gentleman from New York [Mr. LONDON]. How would you take care of his rights? [Laughter.]

Mr. POUL. Well, I will answer the inquiry of my friend by submitting to him another. Why make it two-thirds?

Mr. MANN. Because it has always been made two-thirds, because two-thirds is a reasonable majority to suspend the rules.

Mr. POUL. There have been only two Congresses within my recollection when the two-thirds requirement did not take care of the rights of the minority, and the point has never before been raised. Now, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MANN] knows that if the rule remains as it is, with legislation of stupendous importance for this House to consider, the majority has the power within 40 minutes to pass anything over the minority.

Mr. STEVENSON. Without the right of amendment.

Mr. POUL. If the gentleman from Illinois and the majority desire that situation to continue, all well and good. We are helpless, of course. We content ourselves, therefore, with simply reminding the majority that if they wish to be fair to the small minority on this side of the aisle they will change the rule and make three-fourths instead of two-thirds necessary to suspend the rules.

Mr. MANN. If the gentleman will yield, the fact is that while we intend to be fair, it is a good deal better for the minority, having less than one-third of the House, to have the rules remain as they are than to have the majority exercise its power through the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. TINKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I have the floor. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Kansas does not yield the floor to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. I will say in answer to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. POUL] that the country during the last campaign knew that under parliamentary procedure through all the years it had been customary to suspend the rules by a two-thirds vote, and the country seemed perfectly willing to take the chances that it took on election day in November.

Mr. POUL. I do not dispute it. [Laughter.]

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that this is a matter for facetiousness altogether. I do not think it is a desirable situation in many respects [laughter]; and if the gentleman from Kansas will permit a serious question, let me ask him if he regards it as in the interest of sound public policy that it shall be within the power of the majority under the general rules of the House to pass political legislation under a suspension of the rules?

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. In answer to the gentleman I will say that that is a matter that should appeal to the conscience and judgment of the House of Representatives upon each case as it arises. There is so much of the business of the House that is matter for the individual judgment of Members rather than for the political judgment of the House that I think I would not advocate the abrogation of the rule which requires only a two-thirds vote to suspend the rules of the body.

Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. TINKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask a question of the honorable Representative from Kansas.

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. I yield for a question.

Mr. TINKHAM. In the interest of fairness and liberty of debate I ask the honorable Representative from Kansas if, as a courtesy, he will not defer moving the previous question for one amendment, an amendment which has been before the previous Committee on Rules for about two years and which provides as follows:

Two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present, shall be necessary to agree to a report from the Committee on Rules making in order upon a general appropriation bill any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto which is or shall have been declared to be obnoxious to paragraph 2 of Rule XXI.

The intent of the amendment is to forbid, except with a two-thirds vote, so-called legislative riders upon appropriation bills, a vicious practice which has had an extensive growth of recent years in the House of Representatives.

Will the honorable Representative from Kansas defer moving the previous question in order that that amendment may be debated?

Mr. CAMPBELL of Kansas. I do not feel like deferring the adoption of the rule for the consideration of the proposed amendment suggested by the gentleman from Massachusetts, and therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the previous question.

The previous question was ordered.

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Illinois if it is important to read all of these names.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. There would be no objection on this side to dispensing with the reading.

Mr. MANN. I think they ought to be read.

The reading was completed.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. HUMPHREYS. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry. The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HUMPHREYS. My colleague, Mr. Sisson, Member elect from Mississippi, has not been sworn in because he had to leave Washington last night on account of a death in the family. He wishes to get a leave of absence. I would like to have the advice of the Speaker as to whether or not a Member before he is sworn in can get a leave of absence. If so, I would like to ask a leave of absence for 10 days for the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. Sisson].

The SPEAKER. The Chair would think that, not being yet a Member of the House, not having been sworn in, the gentleman from Mississippi could absent himself as he desires. The Chair does not think that he can be granted leave of absence. That is the off-hand opinion of the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. J. Muir, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou God of our fathers, in whom they trusted in every hour of need and of responsibility, to Thee we look this morning, confident that our trust will never be betrayed, and believing the same hand that led them shall lead us in every pathway of duty. Give unto us the consciousness that there are for us opportunities for still wider usefulness in this world of need, of suffering, and of sin. Be pleased to be with Thy servants to-day, and may Thy grace be made sufficient for every emergency. We ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
